

MARCH 2020 BY THE NUMBERS

THE IMPACT OF COVID-19 ON EDUCATION

More students are learning online than ever before.

3,600%+ increase in global daily Blackboard Collaborate users.

The importance of the LMS as a central hub for teaching and learning is clear.

400% increase in global daily Blackboard Learn logins.

The education community is banding together.

55% increase in the Blackboard Community's membership.

An unprecedented number of communications have been sent to K-12 communities.

225M+ phone calls,
130M+ text messages,
160M+ emails delivered by Blackboard tools.

Instructors are investing in their online teaching practice.

17,000+ registrations for our educator-focused professional development webinars.

Accessible and inclusive content is taking center stage.

400% increase in alternate format downloads through Blackboard Ally.

Mobile apps are being used more than ever.

860,000+ students and instructors downloaded Blackboard mobile apps.

Students and instructors are seeking additional support from their institutions.

56% increase in Blackboard Student Services requests.

STAY HOME

The pace of change sparked by the global coronavirus pandemic is unprecedented. The response of educators, administrators, and institutions around the world is inspirational. We're proud to support the global education community.

Learn more at blackboard.com/remotelearning